

How to Use GobblerConnect

The new and improved GobblerConnect is your go-to place to get your events and opportunities in front of students. Virginia Tech departments and student organizations wishing to make table card reservations need to start with GobblerConnect.

When you get to the GobblerConnect website, the first thing you need to do is Sign in with your vt.edu email address.

After you sign in you will see a large button that will allow you to add your department or organization. This goes through an approval process. You will receive notification once your organization has been approved. At that point you may enter your event or opportunity in GobblerConnect.

Where do I put my opportunity in GobblerConnect?

To add a news feature or event, go to your organization's page, select the event or news tab. There will be a large button that will allow you to add either an event or news feature for your organization. Once this is done, you will have the event or news feature url to enter your table card reservation.
